Support you can feel from the very first phone call.

We think "creative nursing" at N.C. Memorial means group support of your talent, encouragement that stimulates your talent, education that broadens it, and a real appreciation for your contribution.

With 600 beds, N.C. Memorial is a major Southeastern university teaching hospital and the state's critical-care referral center. We are situated on the campus of the historic UNC in a town we still refer to as "the village." Small town hospitality is simply a way of life here, yet you'll find cultural and recreational offerings to compare with any city four times our size.

Discover, apply, and stretch your talents in a friendly atmosphere where people care about each other as individuals.

Find out more.

Ask for our "staff endorsed" brochure. Compare your area of interest to our clinical opportunities. Consider our undergraduate and graduate educational programs. Compare our great location. Then, come interview.
